Impressive Closing Ceremony for the C. G. I. T. Camp

A very lovely and impressive Closing Ceremony brought to an end a glorious eight days of "Camp" at Juanita Beach near Arrowwood. Forty-five girls joined in the great adventure, from the great variety, from July 11-19.

The theme chosen by the girls to be carried out during camp was "Crusading" and this was used throughout.

The usual C.G.I.T. program for camp carried out. The day began with Physical Jerks at 7:00. Then came the Morning Dip, Morning Watch, Raising of the Flag and Breakfast. Morning Worship and Bible Study followed. Bible Study Leaders were: Mrs. Ethel Taylor, of Blackie; Miss Annie MacNeil, Brant; Miss Catherine Johnson, Milo; and Miss Bernice Finlay, Carmangay.

The girls had their choice of six interest groups: Dramatics, Homecraft, Handicrafts, First Aid, Campcraft, and Books. Council held its meetings and the girls discussed problems of C.G.I.T. Groups, was also part of the morning's program.

After dinner, Rest Hour and Swimming were the order of the day. The Swimming and Sports Director was Miss Betty Buckley of Calgary.

The evening was claimed by some of the girls to be the loveliest part of the day. Immediately after supper came games under Miss Buckley's direction. These followed Vespers in the "Chapel", from which the girls returned to the campus for a sing-song, music appreciation, and a camp-fire program. Programs were supplied by the different interest groups. The day closed with "Taps".

The opening ceremony of the camp was held on Friday night, the theme of "Crusading" being used. Each new camper was presented with the golden sword of the crusader. Saturday was International Day in camp. Each Bible Study Group chose to be a certain country. In the evening came the Olympic Games and a parade of the nations.

Sunday was visitors' day. A number of visitors spent the afternoon and evening in camp. In the morning, service was conducted by Miss Maberley, in the Council Ring. After Vespers Sunday evening, Miss Maberley's group in dramatics presented a sacred play, "And He Came to His Father".

District Conference of the Church of the Brethren

The District Conference of the Church of the Brethren opened here on Tuesday evening July 17.

The first service was a sermon by B. B. Weber on "What is Sin." He spoke of how sin makes the life of the individual impotent and urged that the principles of the church be maintained.

Wed. Morning
At 6:45 a.m. quite a few gathered for morning worship. Miss June Myers led the fifteen minute period and directed our thoughts in a worshipful vein, appropriate for beginning the day.

The Bible hour scheduled for 8:30 was conducted by Prof. A. F. Brightbill, who is Prof. of Theology and church music at Bethany Biblical Seminary, Chicago, Ill. He wove his thoughts around his subject "The Sacred Music of the Old Testament" and presented to us a pattern striking and grand.

He pointed out how important a place music held in the temple worship and how David organized choirs and orchestras to sing and play to the praise of God.

Music and law were two great subjects taught in the ancient seminaries which were established for training for those who served in the temple worship.

He emphasized how vital and inspiring this was to the Jewish people.

These interesting thoughts presented by Prof. Brightbill culminated in his plea for new life in the music program of the church.

Brethren Young People's Camp a Success

The Brethren Young People's Camp, known as the Blackfoot Camp was held on the Indian Reservation from July 13-17. A total number of 67 were enrolled, including young people from Irricana, Kindersley and Arrowwood. Rev. Brightbill, Professor of Music at Bethany Biblical Seminary, Chicago, directed the camp. Professor Brightbill is a most capable director and certainly accomplished wonders among the young people.

Only those who attended camp themselves can realize what an inspiration it was. Watch for a more detailed account in next weeks paper.

United States Joins The I.L.O.

More than ordinary significance attaches to recent decision of the American Congress to apply for full membership of the International Labor Organization at Geneva, usually referred to as the I.L.O. Not only will accession of the United States add considerably to the prestige that organization now enjoys, but, bringing as it will the U.S. into direct confrontation with this important branch of League of Nations' activity, the move will do much to restore prestige lost by the parent body through recent defections, notably that of Japan.

Press despatches have revealed little of the background, few of the motives behind this change of front on the part of the Washington government. It is true, of course, membership of the International Labor Organization does not involve endorsement of the League covenant, nor does it entail any political commitments to the League as such. In fact, the U.S. desire to provide adequate safeguards against the "foreign entanglements" that country has so rigorously eschewed since the war, is exemplified in the act of Congress which specifically declares that the United States, by membership in the I.L.O., shall assume "no obligations under the covenant."

This, of course, is possible. The International Labor Organization, like the World Court upon whose bench the United States long has been represented, is an autonomous section of the League of Nations. Membership in either or both is possible without acceptance of the covenant. Germany, as a matter of fact, was an active, full-fledged member of the I.L.O. for many years before becoming a member of the League of Nations. The connection between the organization and the League is derived not from the covenant but from the charter of the I.L.O., which is Part XIII. of the Treaty of Versailles.

The International Labor Organization is, however, much closer to the League than is the World Court for the reason that it, essentially, a means of getting international legislation enacted, or treaties negotiated, as is the League itself. The heart of the League system is its permanent mechanism for continuous international negotiation, and the I.L.O. parallels this machinery throughout, in its limited field of social questions.

The importance of the United States' joining the International Labor Organization, therefore, can best be judged by considering it in relation to the economic problems created by varying standards of living, hours of labor and rates of wages, in nations now competing for foreign markets, and also by contrasting the present action with Washington's past attitude towards the Geneva labor office.

Hitherto, the United States has been far colder to the I.L.O. than any other branch of League activity. Until one year ago, the United States government would have nothing whatever to do with the labor organization, but now, without any parade or ballyhoo, Congress has accepted, virtually without demur, the proposal to apply for membership. This will involve representation on the permanent secretariat at Geneva and ultimate appointment of American representatives to the personnel of the central office.

Psychologically, the action of Washington will have more far-reaching effects. It will give Japan, Germany and Italy "furious to think" for, if President Roosevelt can persuade Congress to make so complete a volte face in so short a time in connection with one great section of League activity, it follows that but little additional persuasion is required to convert his legislators to the idea of accepting the League covenant. Despite recent reticences, and the insistence upon non-political safeguards, American opinion relative to the League is undergoing a change—and that change is not so far ahead of the League's own opinion as to make that end remote. If it comes to pass that the United States enter the League, that body will immediately assume grander and nobler proportions in the eyes of the world, and the dreams of those who called it into existence will be within grasp of fulfillment.

China Holds Cricket Fights

Sportsmen Will Pay Ten Dollars For Good Fighting

A great effort is being made in China to stamp out cricket-fighting. It is being made so far ahead of the League's own opinion as to make that end remote. If it comes to pass that the United States enter the League, that body will immediately assume grander and nobler proportions in the eyes of the world, and the dreams of those who called it into existence will be within grasp of fulfillment.

Project May Succeed

New Process Being Tried To Dredge Gold From Fraser River

The golden wealth in the sands of the Fraser river, which has till now proved largely elusive to the efforts of man, and of which there is said to be enough to pay the national debt of Canada many times over, is to be attacked this summer with a new type of dredge, and with what appears to be every prospect of success.

The structure, now nearing completion, is the largest work of its kind ever attempted on the Pacific coast, incorporating for the first time anywhere in the world an entirely new process as applied to gold dredging.

Built under the engineering advice and supervision of Hume Robertson, placer mining engineer, who has had 20 years' experience in that kind of work with British companies in the Malay Peninsula, the great dredge may now be seen assuming final shape at the shipyards of B.C. Marine Engineers and Shipbuilders Limited.

Hydraulic pumps, with suction strength of 200 pounds to the square inch, created by two 500-h.p. motors, will raise the sands from the bottom of the river and the complete process of washing and refining will be completed upon the dredge.

Capacity, with the present equipment, is placed at 12,500 cubic yards a day, but provision has been made to double the present output by the addition of an upper deck, on an incline of 13 feet from bow to stern.

The whole operation will be electrically driven with individual motors and control switches on the bridge towards the bow of the structure. Present estimates indicate an operating cost of not more than two cents a cubic yard.

Hydro-electric plant is to be constructed on Jones Creek, near where the dredge will be put into operation, but will generate 2,000 horse-power. It is understood that work upon this phase of the undertaking is to start at once.

If the operation of the first dredge proves successful—and every possible safeguard against failure seems to have been taken—the company will proceed to the construction of other dredges of similar model.

Smaller units will be needed in some parts of the river under lease, but will all incorporate the present equipment, with such improvements as practice may suggest.

Problem In South Africa

Many Fugitives With Scottish Names Speak No English

As in Quebec so in South Africa there are people with pure Scottish names like Campbell, Fraser and MacDonald, who speak no English, Dr. S. H. Bloemfontein, Director of Education of the Orange Free State in the Union of South Africa, remarked after an investigation of Quebec school conditions.

Dr. Pellissier went to Quebec to study the question of the school and how it is handled in Quebec. In South Africa they have the same problem, the majority of the speaking population being of English. They are also faced with the difficulty of educating children in the outlying sections, as in Quebec.

Dr. Pellissier said the children with the Scottish names are the descendants of settlers who married Dutch women. They gave their names to their wives but the mothers passed on their own language to their offspring.

SOURCED ON THE WORLD?—THAT'S LIVER

Wake up your Liver

Many people who feel some sluggish and generally unwell, are also suffering from a liver complaint. It is a common ailment, and one that can be cured by the use of a good liver medicine. The liver is the largest organ in the body, and it is the seat of life. It is the liver that filters the blood, and it is the liver that stores the food. If the liver is not working properly, the blood will be impure, and the body will be weak.

Year Of Anniversaries
At Least Three Will Be Commemorated During 1934

That 1934 is a year of anniversaries was recalled by Victor Miron, chairman of the Montreal committee on the Jacques Cartier observance, to the Quebec Women's Institute convention.

In 1534 occurred the discovery of Canada by Jacques Cartier; in 1783, the end of the colony by the founding of Three Rivers; in 1784, the opening of the first road between Quebec and Montreal; and in 1854, the granting of its charter to Toronto.

Some Long Sleeps
But Record Of His Van Winkle Still Stands

A Huddersfield man has had no sleep for eight weary years. Not even morphine can give him an hour of rest sleep. How he must hate such a man as W. Foxley, pot-maker to the Mint, who fell asleep on April 27th, 1846, and slept serenely for fourteen days and eight nights. Fourteen days is only a snap compared with the exploits of some sleepers.

A German civil servant named Arndt, forty-five years old, slept one evening as he got out of a tram and knocked his head on the pavement. He was taken home and put to bed. The doctors said there was no concussion or serious injury. Next morning he was still asleep, and he slept for two years and four months. He was a wreck when at last he woke, yet in the end he was cured.

Then came the famous Marguerite Rouvanel, "the Sleeping Woman of Thionville," who was thrown into a trance-like sleep by a fright and slept for nineteen years and six months. Then she slowly roused, was able to talk, but she was wasted and thin. She died five months later.

The record Rip Van Winkle is an American, a farmer called Harma. He came in one evening, tired after a long day's work, went to bed and slept for twenty-six weeks. It was possible to rouse him to take food, but he could not stay awake more than five minutes. Like the French woman sleeper, he wasted away and died.

French Company Will Survey Bear Lake
It Report Is Satisfactory Capital Will Be Invested

A vast amount of French capital will be invested in developing the Great Bear Lake district, providing that a survey to be made this summer by Dr. Edmund Bruet, of Edmonton from Paris, prove satisfactory.

Dr. Bruet, answering questions which were interpreted by Paul Jenette, former French consul at Edmonton, stated that there was no question of large scale development being undertaken if his report recommended such action.

Dr. Bruet is vice-president and director of Omnium, a large French company which is interested in mineral resources all over the world. It has organized a Canadian branch which would carry on the work in the north country.

The company is interested in gold, silver, platinum, and any of the other mineral discoveries in the far north.

Also representing the department of natural resources at Paris, Dr. Bruet also will study the habits and conditions of the Indian tribes in the north. He also expects to take back to Paris specimens of plant life and also insects found in the north country.

May Join League

By Doing So Russia Would Gain Confidence Abroad

Russia, it is said, plans to enter the League of Nations, and is only delaying to decide what kind of entry would leave the least explaining to do as to why it stayed out so long.

A shrewd desire to help keep peace in Europe is credited to Moscow, no doubt correctly. But there is no doubt that Russia will be in the move. Stalin has troubles enough, without having to keep a watchful eye always on the western front.

In particular he has occasion to focus attention on the far end of his dominion, in which quarter Japan is carving out a place for itself in the Oriental sunshine without much regard for what Russia may want.

Joining the League would be for Russia the next thing to making a general treaty of inoffensiveness with Europe, and leave the Soviet directors free to pay attention to urgent matters in the Far East.

Japan undoubtedly sacrificed a Russian soviet consideration when it put the League. Russia would correspondingly gain confidence abroad if it joined the League and thus asserted itself with the proclaimed purposes of that organization—Edmonton Bulletin.

Turns Page In History

British Girl Retains Nationality Although Married To Frenchman

An English girl to 21 has turned a new page in the story of nationality rights for equal rights with men.

For pretty Iris Glavin, of Stannmore, Middlesex, has become a French citizen rather than a Lucien Albert of Paris, and retained her British nationality. She is the only Englishwoman to do this since the Frenchman was a foreigner—and remained British.

She shyly told of how she wrote to the Home Secretary on her engagement, explaining her patriotic desire, and of the long negotiations with French and British authorities.

She was ready to Paris to be married on Boxing Day. Since then, presumably, she has had no nationality—until now.

She displayed the new British passport in her married name, which she has just received. Written in it was the word: "British subject by force of the provision of the British Nationality and Status of Aliens Act, 1933, of the French Civil Code."

Machine Reads Minds

Graph Paper Takes Record Of Thoughts

The old story about the walls of Jerry-build houses being so thin that you could hear your neighbor changing his mind seems likely to be proved by the truth. A machine invented by Dr. Alexander Cannon records any mental reaction, and constant of little tubes which are attached to a human subject.

The reactions of the brain are recorded on graph paper. Simple emotions, such as love, hate, are recorded, and the machine also registers mental fatigue, the capacity of the mind to tension or concentration, suicidal tendencies, and whether the subject is telling the truth or lying. Among other things, it shows that vertigo music is soothing, and that it relieves asthma by inducing regular breathing. It is also claimed that it proves telepathy to be a physical fact.

Not only does Sergeant Forslund excel with the rifle, but he is also a sure marksmen with the revolver. He is the present holder of the Cunningham cup. While attending an instructional class at Regina, he fired a course and secured a possible 240 points.

Indian Rope Trick A Myth

Occult Committee Says No One Has Ever Seen It

As the result of a solemn inquiry held by the Occult committee of the Magic Circle—a group of bona fide scientists—the Indian rope trick is reported under a headline officially checked "myth."

Nobody, evidence before the committee showed, has ever performed the rope trick, whereas an Indian fakir is supposed to toss a limp rope vertically into the air, whereafter a boy nimbly climbs out of view into the heavens. Nobody could be found who had seen the trick done. So, in effect, the occultists found that neither the rope nor the story will "stand up". The group has offered $2,500 to anyone who will perform the feat.

How India was scored and large rewards were offered futilely for a rope trickster when King George and Queen Mary toured India early in their reign was told by Sidney Clarke, chairman of the Magic Circle.

Even the great Nizam of Hyderabad, with limitless resources, was unable to locate a juggler who could do the rope trick, when asked to provide for a giant garden party related his friend, Sir Michael O'Dwyer. In 25 years in India, Sir Michael never found anyone who had heard of the trick.

Harry Price, director of the "National physical laboratory," said he had collected a library of 12,000 books about magic, and not one contained any genuine evidence about the trick.

Sir Francis Griffin, formerly an inspector-general of police in India, implied belief in the rope trick to be a form of suggestion, like the impressionable American lady of travel who said the most remarkable thing he had seen in India was the sun setting behind the Agni Chakra.

Any Million Made Short Stay In New York
Feeling "very fit" Any Million, British aviator, arrived on the liner "Queen Mary" for a short visit in New York.

Since the crash in Connecticut of the plane in which she and her husband, James H. Molloy, made a westward crossing of the Atlantic in 1933, she had done little flying, she said: "Just a little for my own pleasure."

She said that she and Molloy were looking forward with enthusiasm to the English-Australian air races next October in which they will participate.

When Matt Twaen was a young and struggling newspaper writer in San Francisco, a lady of his acquaintance saw him on his way to work and told him his arm looking in a shop window.

"Mr. Clements," she said, "I always have a cigarette, and I give you your arm. I am afraid you are smoking too much."

"It isn't that," said Mark, "I am wearing again."

District Conference

the Church today.

The next session of the morning opened with the address of welcome given by Evelyn Burris, who in a few well chosen words made the visitors feel right at home.

Oleta McCune responded and expressed the visitors' appreciation of the hospitality extended to them.

Immediately following the Sunday School reports of the District were given and a summary of each Sunday School's work by their respective delegates present.

This was followed by three short talks on the value of Leadership Training by Ruth Brubaker, Glen McCune and Alberta Mason. These three talks were a real challenge to all. They were very well prepared and were made effective by the clear and concise manner in which they were presented.

The remainder of the conference will be published next week.

Impressive Ceremony

On Tuesday morning Miss MacNeal's camera group directed a shore breakfast. That afternoon the camp participated in water sports, under the direction of Miss Backley. Races and fighting dolphins formed the major part of the program. There was also a competition for style swimming and the afternoon ended with a jolly time in the water.

The camp was under the direction of Miss D. Mahlerley, of Calgary. Besides the already mentioned, her staff consisted of Miss Kathleen Shore of Milo, Camp Nurse; Mrs. Campbell, of Vulcan; Mrs. Mackie, of Arrowwood; Camp Manager and Cook; and Miss Marjorie Ellis, of Arrowwood, Cook's Assistant.

The girls and leaders feel that the Arrowwood Camp was truly a success.

"For once you have been a camper. Then something has come to stay. Deep in your heart forever. Which nothing can take away."

Ottawa Speaking

A Canadian of Ottawa sends a letter to the editor of Liberty Magazine in a current issue. James Lambert, of 340 Coltrin Road, Rockcliffe Park, Ottawa, calls attention to the comparison between European borders and the border between Canada and the United States. He says:

"There are no fortifications—only a wire fence here and there. No fear exists among the people of these two countries, and that is the chief trouble in Europe now. Each country fears its neighbors and if that fear is not eliminated another war is inevitable. I hope European nations before long agree on a treaty similar to that existing between U.S. A. and Canada in regard to the fortifying of their frontiers."

Horsemen and Horses

H. R. White is conducting his farewell class in the Milo district this week. He held three classes and is on the fourth in the same district. During these classes Mr. White has had some of Canada's best horsemen to witness his work, with full satisfaction and the highest words of praise for the one horseman proving beyond a doubt that he can and does his full poster as advertised, 100 per cent. One hour in White's School will convince the most skeptical person that there is much in his system to understand; more to learn and know regarding the true nature and proper management of horses than can be believed or even imagined by the best skilled horseman.

In one case Mr. White was given the worst runaway, kicking horse in the Milo district. The horse, which was over eight years old, had been running away periodically for the last four years, kicking everything loose that was fastened to him every time anything touched his heels. Last May he broke both tongues of a new seed drill in one of his wild bolts for freedom, taking five other horses with him. New tongues for the drill had to be supplied before seeding operations could be continued. This caused a day and a half delay in seeding, which is not either profitable or satisfying to a farmer. At the first lesson, under Mr. White's system and management, he was hitched to a wagon. The horse at once opened fire on Mr. White in an attempt to win another victory, but soon found that he was not in a kinder garden and stopped his kicking stuff and had no time to runaway.

Mr. White put the horse through a performance in short order that gave rise to the thought that you were looking at a polo game. He was soon taught to run and turn, stop and start, fast and slow, litch and with no traces between his hind legs. In the next lesson he was driven with the lines between his legs also and without a sign of either a kick or a stampede from the animal. Mr. Chas. Stokes, Armada, a reliable farmer and rancher, was a pupil in White's class, was well pleased, saying that the improvement made in the horse was well worth the $25 that he had given to join Mr. White's school.
